Leiper Is Lapidary Journal Ed.

Under an article entitled "A Growth County Industry", mention is made of different specialty publishers who serve ardent audiences and circulate San Diego's name around the globe.

Journals published here and distributed widely include the Lapidary Journal, edited by former Texan Hugh Leiper. The Journal is a national gemcutting magazine which is distributed to 72 countries. It is the "rockhounds' bible" whose 48,000 copies go to that many countries.

It begins its 21st year April 1 was founded by Leland Quick. Leiper, an enthusiastic gem collector and cutter, joined "Quick" in March 1958. At that time the journal had four employees and only 16,500 circulation. It now has 28 employees, and a circulation approaching the 50,000 mark.

It also published the Rockhound Buyers' Guide - some 280 pages, some in full color and contains 1,350 advertisements. The Company also sells books, many of which it publishes. They are a $450,000 a year business. Leiper became managing editor when Quick retired three years prior to his death in 1963.

Although he will turn 68 in April, Leiper is no armchair editor, nor is his associate editor, Pansy D. Kroas, graduate gemologist of the Gemological Institute of America. Both cut and collect gem stones.

San Diego is the leading U. S. County in the production of gems. It has produced more gem tourmaline than any other county in the U.S.A. Mines are no longer active, but rockhounds are constantly combing the back country.

Hugh Leiper is the brother of Mrs. Howard Waddle and the late Mrs. Finley Ward, and uncle of W. R. Herndon, Jr. of California. Mr. and Mrs. Leiper reside in Encinitas, California.

Ride 'em Cameraman

Mother Who Gave Child Away Helped

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - A Nashville mother, who sent her young daughter to a loan company which garnished her wages, says she has received enough financial help since then to allow her to manage her debts.

Right now, Wanda Lee Thompson said, her chief concern is regaining custody of her daughter, Teresa Lynn, 5, who was turned over to juvenile authorities when Mrs. Thompson, 27, took her unusual action.

The blonde girl arrived by taxicab alone last Thursday at the downtown office of Century Finance Co., with this note pinned to her dress:

"Here is my baby. Since you took my check, you can take care of her 'till I'm able to."

Bill McMaster, manager of the loan office, called police, who turned the girl over to juvenile authorities. They, in turn, let the girl go to live with Mrs. Thompson's aunt, Beatrice Clements, pending the April 11 hearing on a neglect charge filed against the mother.

Mrs. Thompson, who said she took her action because "things just seemed to be mounting

Portugal to Open West German Plant

By DENNIS F. REDMONT
BEJA, Portugal, (AP) - A huge airbase paid for mostly with West German marks that will eventually employ 3,000 West German airmen opens this summer near this quiet trading and wheat town 85 miles southwest of Lisbon.

Portuguese and West German officials have revealed little about the base since they began planning it within the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in 1960. No official documents on their agreement have ever been published in Portuguese newspapers.

"The Portuguese government has been kind enough to have us as their guests," said a high officer among the 200 Germans already living in some of the 40 red-tiled barracks near the aluminum hangars. "This base is Portuguese and we are subject to Portuguese jurisdiction."

Although commanded and staffed by Portuguese officers, the base was planned by West German officials as a "fall back" in case of nuclear attack on their homeland. It will house three squadrons of jets able to strike back on short notice.

The base will have the largest jet engine test facilities in Western Europe and two runways long enough for new supersonic transport planes. NATO jet repair workshops will be transferred from Alverca, near Lisbon, to the base.

It will also have a manmade port on the Atlantic and a supply depot in northern Portugal.

West Germany is paying nearly three-quarters of the $60 million construction cost. In addition, the Germans are buying $105 million of Portuguese arms, providing therapy in German hospitals for soldiers injured fighting rebels in Portugal's African colony of Angola and helping to irrigate southern provinces of Portugal.

Told About Paper Mill

A.L.C. NELSON

A.L.C. Nelson, wood procurer and woodlands manager of Nekosa Edward Paper Mill, now under construction at Ashdown, told Lions about the company and presented a slide showing their operations in many locations.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate forester of Yale University and holds a masters degree in forestry. He has had some 16 years experience in this work, seven of these with the Crossett Co. and is familiar with timber of this area as well as other places.

He and his wife and son recently moved to Ashdown to make their home. He was connected with the Hudson Paper Co. in Florida.

Millwood Reservoir completion makes this type of industry possible in this area. Paper mills require water purer than many persons drink, Mr. Nelson said.

the legislators. Rep. W. H. Thompson of Marked Tree charged that opposition to the measure was coming from disgruntled Democrats "who voted for a Republican governor." He said, however, he supported the bill not because the legislators need the money but because the constitutional officers do.

The House adopted two resolutions to make consideration of bills easier during the extension. They allow the House to consider appropriation bills by the Joint Budget Committee and administration measures without first suspending the rules, requiring a two-thirds vote.

The House and Senate adopted a rule before the recess that no bill could be considered without two-thirds consent.

Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs, author of the resolution on administration bills, said it would "give us all an opportunity to acknowledge the fact that we are willing to give administration measures consideration."

The Senate defeated a motion by Sen. Robert Harvey of Swift to expunge the record of the vote by which a bill appropriating funds for the operation of the State Cosmetology Board had failed.

Sens. Guy Jones of Conway and Richard Earl Griffin of Crossett had charged that Rockefeller attempted to make a deal under which the board would fire some of its employees, assume those jobs and permit the administration to name its own board members.

Jones also blocked consideration of an appropriation for the state Civil Defense Office. He said the Senate had not confirmed the appointment of E. Talbot of Bald Knob as successor to Stu Prosser of Conway as Civil Defense director. Talbot's appointment was submitted later in the day.

Smith introduced a resolution for sine die adjournment at noon Friday.

Both houses convene at 11 a.m. today.

Also introduced in the Senate Monday were bills to:

— Exempt newspaper carriers from the state's child labor laws.

— Authorize counties and municipalities levying a motor vehicle tax to use the revenue to provide ambulance service.

— Appropriate $11,088 for payment to Mrs. Avelene Owens, whose 9-year-old daughter, Victoria, was struck and killed an exhibition parachutist; his wife, Angela Maria, 52, and their chauffeur, Armando Girard, 40.

Reports circulated in Turin Monday that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency wanted to talk to six American parachutists who knew Rinaldi and participated with him and an Italian group of chutists in a mass jump at Stuttgart, Germany, in September 1962.

The Americans were not identified, but the CIA was said to be interested in the contacts they had with Rinaldi.

Informants in Turin told newsmen last week that Rinaldi had implicated 300 NATO employees in the espionage operation, but the Italian government denied this.

Authorities in Turin said microfilms of secret documents and military sites were found in the Rinaldi's home, including pictures of an air base at Aviano, in northern Italy, and of a U.S. base in Spain.

Rinaldi's reputation as a parachutist, they said, allowed him easy access to military bases. He allegedly was trained to take still pictures and movies.

Sources in Nicosia, Cyprus, said the main job of the spy ring on that island was to watch the British Royal Air Force atomic bomber base on the south of the island.

His body was found about halfway up the mountain, with a tree across it.

Greece Ousts Two Soviet Diplomats

By PHILIP DOPOULOS

ATHENS (AP) - Two Soviet diplomats have been ordered to leave Greece by Wednesday night, apparently because they were involved with the big Soviet ring spying on North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in the Mediterranean area.

The Foreign Ministry issued expulsion orders for Albert Zharov, second secretary in the Soviet Embassy, and Igor Ochurkov, a member of the Soviet commercial delegation. The Foreign Ministry said incriminating evidence had been compiled against them concerning activities incompatible with their status.

Unofficial sources believe the pair was part of the spy ring disclosed last week with the arrest of three Italians. Since then, one Soviet diplomat has hurriedly left Italy, two Russians have been expelled from Cyprus, several civilians have been arrested in Cyprus, and Swiss police said arrests may be made there.

The three Italians, who were charged last Wednesday in Turin with espionage for the Soviet Union, were Giorgio Rinaldi, 39, an exhibition parachutist; his wife, Angela Maria, 52, and their chauffeur, Armando Girard, 40.

Reports circulated in Turin Monday that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency wanted to talk to six American parachutists who knew Rinaldi and participated with him and an Italian group of chutists in a mass jump at Stuttgart, Germany, in September 1962.

After all these years of experience in retailing you would think we would know better than come up with the trite old statement . . . "I wouldn't be caught dead in that!"

Well, maybe we won't be dead . . . in fact "very much alive" is the feeling most women have in the pants suits. And it has absolutely nothing to do with trying to mimic the men. This style has come about simply because women are tired of struggling to get in and out of cars and planes, trying to sit gracefully without tugging at the hemline and also . . . and the most important thing . . . the new look in pants.

The bonded knits from Jane Colby have a longer-than-usual jacket - smartly tailored pants, and a shell to complete your costume.

Paisley prints are beautiful in suits styled by Mr. Thompson. Please! The colors are gay . . . hot-pink, green and bright orange. Country Set has come up with pants, a white suit in acetate that is so smartly tailored you get the yen to go-go when you try them on.

And of course Donovan-Galvani and Koret of California, who makes those wonderful co-ordinates, has stretch pants, solid shells or a beautiful hand screen print to match. They are so lovely, you will feel as if you are headed straight for a resort . . . pants, $13.00; shell, $5.00; and shorts, $9.00.

Some Drugs Helpful, But Cancer Cure Undiscovered

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What causes leukemia? What is the best treatment?
A—The cause of leukemia, sometimes referred to as cancer of the blood, is unknown, but it is believed to be a virus. If this proves to be true we still don't know how the virus enters the body. It does not appear to be transmitted directly from one victim to another as is the case with some viral diseases. In some persons heavy exposure to benzene and a variety of other chemicals has precipitated myelogenous or myelocytic leukemia.

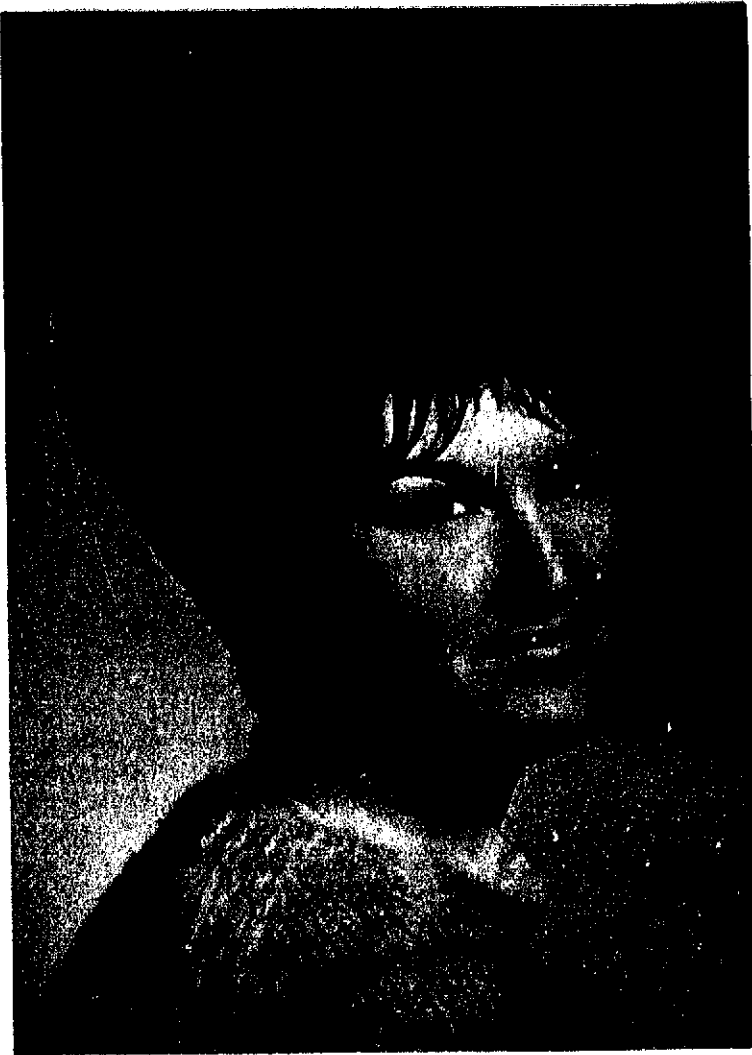

For many years deep X-ray treatment applied to the spleen was the treatment of choice for myelogenous leukemia but it has largely been replaced by treatment with busulfan (Myleran). For lymphatic or lymphocytic leukemia the drug of choice is chlorambucil (Leukeran). Helpful as these and other drugs are, we are still a long way from discovering a real cure for this disease.

The chief difficulty is finding a drug powerful enough to kill the malignant cells that will not cause severe damage to the normal cells of the body.

Q—Does leukemia cause bruises to be slow to disappear?
A—In persons with leukemia, black and blue marks may occur following slight trauma. Superficial wounds may bleed profusely and healing is slow.

Q—I have heard that there is a better drug than Myleran for the control of myelocytic leukemia but that the government has not released it for general use. Is this so and, if so, why?

about 100 new viruses. The host cell then breaks open, releasing the newly found viruses to attack other bacteria host cells. Edgar reported he found a way to alter the viruses so they cause the host cells to make only unassembled virus parts. This, he said, was accomplished with heat and chemicals that inactivate some of the 100 genes on the virus DNA.

Biologists Assemble Live Virus

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two biologists report they have assembled a live virus more complex than any ever artificially built before.

Dr. Robert Edgar and Dr. William Wood of the California Institute of Technology reported their virus, labeled T4, was built up from parts of incomplete viruses manufactured by bacteria.

They said T4 — which resembles the shape of a hypodermic syringe and is only 1-100,000th of an inch long — can't reproduce itself without help from the bacteria it normally infects.

It reproduces itself by squirting a chemical combination called DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid, into the host bacteria.

DNA, a key part of the virus' nucleus, carries the genes, or molecules that supervise heredity. Injection of the virus' DNA into the bacteria cell destroys the host cell's own DNA and forces the cell to manufacture

When certain virus genes are made inactive, he explained, the host cells make no virus heads, or they make no tails when certain other genes are made inactive.

But when these incomplete virus parts are mixed in a test tube, he said, they assemble themselves to become complete viruses capable of reproducing to another host cell.

Edgar and Wood said other researchers have put together simpler viruses, such as the tobacco mosaic virus.

The work of Edgar and Wood was reported in the current issue of Caltech's "Engineering and Science" magazine.

Dear Helen:

Today my friend and I went shopping. While there we thought why not do a little shoplifting?

Well, that wasn't very smart because we got caught. In a way, I'm glad because now I'll never do it again. We got caught by two real nice store detectives. They told us real definite how wrong it was and then they read us a letter which you had received to YAFI from a guy who got caught and how bad he felt.

They told us also the guys who say "NO" to temptation are the ones who have guts.

Please put this letter into your column because we'd like to thank the detectives and tell them from now on we have the right kind of guts. And also that we sure know now how it hurts your parents, just because you think you want to be "big and smart." —KEN AND MIKE

Swedes Turn Down Request for Abortion

By ERIK A. WOLD
OSLO, Norway, (AP) — The Norwegian government has turned down a request by a woman member of Parliament for an abortion law giving women the right to decide by themselves to interrupt pregnancy.

"Further liberalizing of abortion in this country is unjustifiable," Egil Aarvik, minister of social affairs, told Parliament in reply to Mrs. Aase Lionaes of the opposition Labor party.

"This would mean to give individuals the right to decide whether another human being should live or not. It would be an obvious break of all those ethical and juridical principles our lawmaking is based upon."

Norway opened the way for legal abortions in 1964. But pregnant women must apply to the director of the state medical services.

Permission is granted on medical or social grounds and the woman's mental as well as physical health may be considered. A woman with numerous children and an alcoholic husband, for instance, would be allowed an abortion.

In a television debate, Mrs. Lionaes said the government grants legal abortions to about 2,000 women a year and turns down the applications of more than 2,000 others.

She said an estimated 7,000 women have criminal abortions. Some experts who appeared on the program put the number as high as 10,000.

Herman Just Strayed From Home

Most people guess he swam nearly 15 miles in the ocean before turning up Monday at a health spa for horses.

But everyone knows why he went home. Lisa the elephant lured him.

Herman, all 1,500 pounds of him, had been missing since he wandered away Friday night from his beachfront cage in Huntington Beach, north of here. He had been appearing at a benefit carnival.

Police, his owner, Gene Holder, and friends couldn't find him. They theorized that Herman, who often was taken for an ocean swim, took an unauthorized dip.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broadway theater joined motion pictures and television Sunday night in performing its annual awards-giving rites before a national audience.

The "Tony" was given in fewer categories than in the sister media, but the awkward form of both the Oscar and Emmy ceremonies was preserved.

The awards ceremony telecast by ABC did have one delightful aspect of its very own—it gave away some free samples of its work to the audience.

We saw production numbers from "Walking Happy" and "Cabaret"—the latter won a bushel of awards—and there was a delightful duet by Mary Martin and Robert Preston of "I Do, I Do." All are hit musicals.

Probably the brightest spot in the weekend entertainment was NBC's "Experiment in Television" on Sunday afternoon. Called "We Interrupt This Season," it was a valiant attempt to satirize television and its curious ways.

An assortment of young people—all apparently newcomers—went to work on commercials an airing at her thoroughbred sea spa, a health resort for race horses.

"In just a minute, Challenger came rushing back in, so I investigated," she said. "I found Herman in the big swimming pool where we condition horses."

It was evident Herman had breakfasted on the horses' hay and then went into the pool, which is filled with sea water.

"I looked up the horses so they wouldn't get frightened," Mrs. Hendricks said, "then I called the police."

They found Herman's hoofprints leading from the ocean to Mrs. Hendricks' spa.

Owner Holder was relieved. "He can swim like a fish," he said, "but I was worried that a shark might attack him."

Holder first thought he would rope Herman. But Herman remained submerged in nine feet of water.

Then Holder led Lisa, an elephant Herman's age — four years — and his childhood sweetheart, to the edge of the pool.

Holder had bought them as babies — Herman from Africa, Lisa from India.

"I had only one heated stall, so I put them together," he said. "They've been inseparable ever since."

Holder thought Herman would come out of the water voluntarily as soon as he heard or saw Lisa.

"Speak, Lisa," Holder commanded. "C'mon Lisa, speak."

The elephant glared at Holder and let out a trumpet.

Herman remained submerged.

Three times Lisa was led into the chilly water. Three times she scrambled out.

Just as everyone was about to give up, Herman's head popped followed by her. It's got to the point where her troubles are mine, and I have enough of my own! She just pours them out and they're pretty wild. Besides, I'm being marked as one of her kind because she hangs around me so much.

I tell her to see an expert, but she won't. She needs one! I've tried losing her politely but she won't take the hint. I feel sorry for her, but, honest, I can't help. How can I turn in my junior psychiatrist's button? —WORRIED, ALSO BORED

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

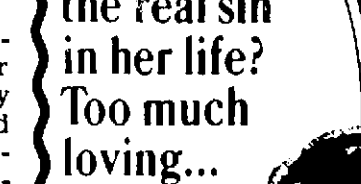

In the 29 years since the Golden Gate Bridge was built in San Francisco, it has carried 156 million vehicles which have produced $113 million in tolls—more than triple the original $35 million cost of construction. Drivers who cannot pay the toll are forced to put up bond, says The World Almanac. Many of the bonds are unredeemed and the toll collector's safe is filled with electric razors, transistor radios, fishing rods and other items.

Celtics Are Respectful of Knicks

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Celtics, optimistic but not overconfident, will try to eliminate the New York Knicks' backdoor from the National Basketball Association playoffs by winning the game hardly anyone expected to be played.

The game is the fourth of the best-of-5 Eastern Division semifinal series, which most people including the Celtics thought would be over in three games, especially after Boston won the first two.

But Sunday night in Boston, the Knicks stunned the Celtics 123-112, prompting Boston Player-Coach Bill Russell to say:

"Overconfidence beat us. Plainly and simply, I don't think it will happen again."

The Celtics can be excused for being overconfident going into Sunday's game. They had beaten the Knicks 21 straight times dating back to March 17, 1965, and had won 22 straight games with the Knicks at Boston since December, 1962.

New York's victory did something else, too. It ended any prophesying on the part of Russell, who had predicted the Celtics would win the third game.

"That ends my prediction," he said afterwards.

Boston, upon arrival here, will go directly to Madison Square Garden and spend the hour before tonight's game in a locked dressing room.

"We're going to think about nothing but basketball the whole time," Russell said. "I'll tolerate no distractions. I want to wind this thing up."

There are no other games tonight. Philadelphia is awaiting the outcome of the Celtics-Knicks series, and San Francisco and St. Louis don't open the best-of-7, Western Division final set until Thursday.

Atlanta Braves

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PITCHING—Vulnerable spot last season. Ditto 1967. Ken Johnson (14-8, 3.29) most consistent pitcher last year. Tony Cloninger dropped from 24-11 to 14-11. No rap against Tony, but second figure more in line with his talents. Denny Lemaster (11-8) too inconsistent to be big star. Wade Blasingame had arm trouble, slipping from 16 wins to 3-7. Braves had high hopes for him. Other starters—Bob Bruce (3-13) at Houston last year, Dick Kelley (8-7), Pat (6-2), Ron Reed, who plays pro basketball for Detroit, respected rookie. Schwall can start or relieve Clay Carroll made plenty of trips from bullpen last season, finishing with 8-7, 2.38 ERA. Kelley, Jarvis key men. RATING—B—

INFIELD—Addition of Cleve Boyer at third will tighten defense. If only Cleve could hit. Dennis Menke (.251), Woody Woodward (.264) the double play combination. Felipe Alou brings a .327 average (31 HR, 74 RBI) to first base. RATING—B.

OUTFIELD—Rico Carty (.326, 15 HR, 76 RBI) one of the game's most natural hitters. Mack Jones had a good year in '66 with .264, 23 HR, 66 RBI. Hank Aaron (.279, 44 HR, 127 RBI) getting older but his production remains the same. RATING—A.

CATCHING—Joe Torre the best catcher in baseball last year was typical for him. .315, 36 HR, 101 RBI. Joe caught 148 games. When he does need rest, Gene Oliver takes over. Poor Gene. RATING—A.

BENCH—Mike De La Hoz adequate utility infielder. Not much of a hitter. Ty Cline (.273), Gary Geiger (.262) experienced outfielders. Infielder bill Southworth promising youngster. RATING—B—

SUMMARY—Pitching the weakness. Power awesome. Best in league. Braves will get runs. Their pitching gives them away. Young pitchers must develop quickly. If one does, Braves could go straight to top. PREDICTION—The kids aren't ready. 6TH.

Bill Glass to Speak at Banquet

Bill Glass, All-American of Baylor University and all-pro defensive end of the Cleveland Browns, will be the guest speaker at the second annual Bobcat All Sports Banquet to be held April 1 at 7:00. The Banquet will be held in the Third District Livestock Coliseum.

Bill Glass was born in Corpus Christi, Texas. It was there that he followed in an older brother's footsteps out onto the gridiron: and it was from there that he found his way to national prominence and ratings as an All-American football player at Baylor University.

When playing in college, Glass was picked as an outstanding professional football prospect by Steve Owen, then coach of the New York Giants professional football team. Upon graduation, he was drafted by both the Detroit Lions of the National Football League and the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League.

Glass was a part of the magnificent defense which held the strong Baltimore Colts offense scoreless in the world championship game in 1964. The all-pro defensive end has played in several pro-bowl games and the Allstate game of the National Football League. In 1963, Bill Glass received the Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

The public is cordially invited to attend this banquet. Tickets are on sale at the Coaches office, High School office, and also may be purchased from any high school athlete for only $2.00.

Saints Sign Coach, Two New Players

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It was a busy day Monday for the New Orleans Saints, the National Football League's newest member.

The Saints hired an assistant coach, completing Head Coach Tom Fears' staff; signed two free agents, including a former college basketball star who has never played football; and announced the site of a pre-season exhibition game.

Fears said Bob Shaw, 43, had been chosen as receiver coach. Shaw has been coach of the Canadian Football League's Toronto Argonauts for the past two seasons.

An all-star football and basketball player at Ohio State, played pro football with the Cleveland and Los Angeles Rams, the Chicago Cardinals and the CFL Calgary Stampeders and Argonauts. He was on the Cleveland Rams championship team in 1945 and in 1950 with the Cardinals he caught five touchdown passes against the Baltimore Colts.

Shaw was an assistant coach previously at Baltimore and San Francisco.

With the signing of 6-foot-6 Hugh Barker Monday, the Saints may have a basketball look this fall. Barker, 255, of Fresno, Calif., was a four-year cage star at Edinboro, Penn., State.

"I never played football," said Barker, "but I've gotten some size on me in the past couple of years and want to give it a try."

Barker, who finished at Edinboro two seasons ago, was signed as a tight end.

In the recent NFL draft, the Saints chose Providence basketball star Jimmy Walker, an All-American, and Tennessee's Ron Widby, most valuable basketball player in the Southeastern Conference.

Walker played football in high school but not in college. Widby was the punting specialist for the Tennessee football team, frequently making long distance hops by airplane to play both basketball and football on the same day.

Also signed as a free agent by the Saints Monday was Jimmy Ebbeling, 6-0 and 205, of Shafter, Calif. Ebbeling played at Bakersfield, Calif., Junior College in 1962-63 and later attended Tennessee and Miami, Fla., but did not play at either college.

At Bakersfield, Ebbeling played defensive back and flanker and was chosen on the Junior College All-America team.

The Saints said they would play an exhibition game Aug. 26 at Portland, Ore., with the San Francisco 49ers. It is the third pre-season game announced by the Saints, who'll play the Rams in Anaheim, Calif., Aug. 2 and the Atlanta Falcons here tentatively Sept. 9.

Clay Could Be Drafted in 16 Days

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston draft board spokesman says the normal churning of administrative machinery could produce an Army private named Cassius Clay 16 days from now if the heavyweight champ's court fights with the Selective Service system fail.

Clay's draft board in Louisville, his old home town, said Monday it had granted his request for induction into the Army in Houston, his new home town. His old orders told him to report in Louisville on April 11.

Clay's managers announced a suspension of talks about future title defenses and, as Muhammad Ali, Black Muslim minister, Clay remained in Dallas, recruiting converts for Allah.

He paused to tell reporters, "If I thought it would bring freedom, justice and equality for 22 million so-called Negroes, you wouldn't have to draft me. I'd join tomorrow."

The induction switch from Louisville to Houston meant an automatic delay described as "indefinite," but Mrs. Josie W. Koonce, chief clerk for all Houston draft boards, said that "indefinite" under law meant a minimum of one day and probably will mean no more than three weeks or a month at most.

She said it is up to the Army now to decide whether or not it will accept Clay from among the other Houston draftees and out-of-town draftees sent its way.

"As far as I've found, there's no reason why he won't be inducted," she said. "We don't know what dates we have on our calls. Some calls are in April, but our calls are small now."

Misplays Give State Victory

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University took advantage of a misplayed pick-off attempt and squeezed past Purdue University, 2-1, here Monday. It was the season opener for Purdue. The Indians are now 6-3-1.

A double by Criss McGuire and two walks led to the Indians' winning run in the bottom of the seventh. Purdue attempted to pick McGuire off second and Jimbo Calloway scored from third.

Purdue tied the score in the top of the seventh on consecutive hits by Chuck Smith, Sam Wilson and Ray Starnes. A State scored a run in the bottom of the second on a fielder's choice, a single by Calloway and a sacrifice fly.

Mikita, Hull Have Titles Wrapped Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — With Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita having the goal and scoring championship of the National Hockey League wrapped up, the only questions remaining are can they break the all-time records in those departments?

With four games left to play, the Chicago Black Hawks' stars are rapidly closing in on the individual records. Hull's 52 goals is just two short of his record high of 54 set last season and Mikita needs just six points to break the point record of 97 set by Hull last season.

Chicago goalies Glenn Hall and Dennis DeJordy are contending for the Vezina Trophy with a goals-against average of 2.45 and New York Ranger netminder Ed Giacomin leads the league in shutouts with nine.

The executive manager of NASCAR, Lin Kuchler, said earlier that the new Ford manifold and exhaust systems are simply an improvement over those formerly in use, and that they are generally available for sale as required by the rules.

Soviet Hockey Team Wins 5th Straight Title

VIENNA (AP) — Russia has its fifth straight world hockey championship wrapped up today while the United States battled for fourth place honors.

The American team takes on West Germany in the game for fourth place.

Russia clinched the championship Monday, beating Canada 2-1 in a hard-fought battle marked by a Russian goal that lobbed into the net off defenseman Barry McKenzie's glove and over goalie Seth Martin's shoulder.

MIXED EMOTIONS at the Dodgers' training base in Vero Beach, Fla., belong to Jim Lefebvre, left, the second baseman, and newcomer Bob Bailey (12) who is learning to play first base. Bailey was with Pittsburgh last season.

Marichal Shows Up at Camp

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Juan Marichal puts his $100,000 right arm to work in San Francisco's season opener next month, Jack Hlatk figures to watch the action from a front-row seat in the bullpen.

But the Giants' reserve catcher prefers the view from behind the plate . . . and the farther he hits, the closer he gets.

Hlatk led off the 10th inning Monday with a towering home run, giving San Francisco a 3-2 exhibition victory over the California Angels . . . who dealt him to the Giants in 1964 for outfielder Jose Cardenal.

Marichal, meanwhile, showed up at the Giants' Phoenix, Ariz., camp, signed his first six-figure contract and promised he'll be ready to pitch in the April 11 season opener at St. Louis. The Dominican right-hander, a 25-game winner in 1966, was the last of this year's holdouts.

"I feel I'm in good condition and ready to go right to work," said Marichal, who'll likely make his first spring appearance Friday against the Angels.

Hlatk, a 24-year-old Californian who also plays first base and the outfield, connected off Angels right-hander Jim Coates in the 10th, snapping a 2-2 deadlock.

Hlatk got into 18 games with the Giants last season and hit .304 after spending most of the year with Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League, where he had a .270 mark and 13 homers.

He is battling Dick Dietz and Bob Barton for the No. 2 spot behind regular catcher Tom Haller.

The long ball made the difference in three other games on Monday's exhibition schedule. Sam Bowens' three-run homer lifted Baltimore past Washington 4-3, two talented homers gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 nod over Los Angeles and Atlanta cracked five homers in trimming Boston 6-1.

The Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 12-7 in a 31-hit struggle, Houston edged Minnesota 7-6 on Dave Adlesh's RBI single in the 12th inning, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Cleveland 5-4 and the Kansas City-Philadelphia game ended in a 2-2 tie when rain stopped play after nine innings.

A scheduled night game between the New York Mets and Detroit Tigers was washed out by rain.

Bowens connected off Washington's Camilo Pascual, who was making his first exhibition appearance, following two walks in the seventh inning. Pascual had doubled home a run in the top of the inning to give the Senators a 2-1 lead.

Dodgers' center fielder Jim Hickman missed a shoestring bid for Andre Rodgers' liner with two on in the fifth inning and it went for an inside-the-park homer. Willie Stargell's sixth-inning shot tipped left fielder Bob Bailey's glove and went over the fence for a two-run homer that won it for the Pirates.

Felipe Alou, Denis Menke, Mack Jones and Rico Carty all homered for Atlanta off ex-Brave Hank Fisher and Cleve Boyer rapped a two-run homer in the eighth against Dan Osinski, another former Brave.

The White Sox rapped out 17 hits and battered Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the eighth inning to outscore the Yankees. Triples by Ken Berry and Tom McCraw sparked the deciding rally.

Pitcher Dan Schneider checked Minnesota on one hit over the final three innings and scored the winning run on Adlesh's two-out single in the

Mets Have a Gaping Hole at Second

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The departure of Ron Hunt has left the New York Mets with a gaping hole at second base that could add a few wrinkles to Manager Wes Westrum's furrowed brow.

Chuck Hiller and Bart Shirley were the early nominees as replacements for Hunt, who went to the Dodgers in the deal for Tommy Davis. Now hitting-hitting Sandy Alomar, acquired from Houston, will get a shot at it. But none of them is a Hunt.

Add to that the problem at shortstop where rookie Bud Harrelson has failed to hit and veteran Roy McMillan has reinjured his shoulder. Westrum's eternal optimism has also been dented by the slow start of Don Bosch, the highly publicized rookie center fielder who came from Pittsburgh with pitcher Don Cardwell in the trade for Dennis Ribant.

The Mets finally escaped from 10th place last year and they went to camp with great hopes of moving up the ladder. Some of the flaws have become all too evident as the club swings through its exhibition schedule. And opening day is only two weeks off.

When McMillan temporarily dislocated his right shoulder in a game at West Palm Beach about 10 days ago, hopes of his return to shortstop all but flickered out. Despite the operation on his shoulder last September, there were many who still counted on the veteran for some help.

Harrelson, a speedy youngster with potential who hit .221 with Jacksonville and .222 in a late trial with the Mets, apparently has been pressing. Westrum has given him a rest now and then, using the veteran Eddie Bresoud at the position.

Hiller is a solid .280 hitter but no great glove man and there is doubt about the ability of Shirley, ex-Dodger who batted .260 at Spokane, to handle second base.

Alomar hit .243 with the Braves' Richmond farm of the International League. The Astros obtained him in the Eddie Mathews deal.

Kenny Boyer, now 36, still makes the big plays at third and hit 14 homers while batting .266 as a Met last year. Ed Kranepool (.254) at first, rounds out the infield.

Bosch's slow start puzzled the experts who had been assured repeatedly that the little man (5-10 and 160) had few peers as a center fielder. Perhaps, it has been a case of pressing at the bat. He hit .283 on the Pirates' Columbus farm.

Davis (.313 with the Dodgers)

Astros' 12th.

Lee Maye and Vada Pinson ach drove in two runs and John Edwards hit a bases-empty homer in Cincinnati's victory over the Cardinals. Ron Santo, who had homered in the second inning, delivered the winner for the Cubs with a fifth-inning sacrifice fly.

Don Lock's ninth-inning homer pulled the Phillies even with Kansas City before the rains came.

Alabama to Welcome Negro Players

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the University of Alabama says its football team is ready to welcome its first Negro candidate when spring practice begins next Saturday, the Washington Post said today.

The Post quoted Dr. Frank Rose, university president, as saying the student "has been given every encouragement by Coach (Paul) Bryant and by the student's academic advisors."

The student is a halfback named Doc House, an engineering major. Rose said the student indicated he wanted to try out for football last September but failed to take a required physical examination, according to the Post.

Rose was quoted as saying House decided not to try out because afternoon engineering labs and his over-all schedule made it too difficult.

"He came back recently," the Post quoted Rose, "and told Coach Bryant he has now worked out a schedule that will permit him to try football and was told to undergo a physical and draw football gear by the April 1 start of spring practice."

"Two weeks ago, Coach Bryant called a meeting of prospective players but House did not attend. I don't know why he did not attend, but, as I said, he has been given every encouragement."

Lawlessness Goes Under Microscope

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime goes under the microscope today of 500 law enforcement, court and other officials seeking to trace the anatomy of lawlessness that frightens some Americans off the street with violence and preys on others through organized syndicates.

The 500 were called here by President Johnson to help plan tactics for putting into operation what could be the greatest anti-crime drive the United States has mounted.

The broad outline of the problem and about 200 recommendations for coping with it are contained in a 352-page, $2-million report by the President's Crime Commission. The report took 18 months to produce.

The report says it would cost "several hundred million dollars" each of the next 10 years to wage a successful drive.

Ramsey Clark, whom President Johnson saw sworn in as attorney general March 10 to "be our commander in this war on two fronts against crime" is the two-day conference's keynote speaker.

Today's theme is "Planning for Change" the report says must come if today's police forces, courts and detention centers are to be modernized to meet new crime situations.

The President described two of these problems as the increasing fear among some Americans of the criminal and the increasing fear among others of "the men who seek to enforce" the law.

The crime report recommends a vast overhaul of police organization and techniques in handling crime, and better methods of handling problems that involve minority groups in racial and other disputes.

Conference panel sessions concern such problems as street robberies and attacks so frightening they have "impelled hundreds of thousands of Americans to move their homes or change their habits," burglary, larceny — stealing that does not involve either force or illegal entry — auto theft and other crimes.

But a whole category of crimes lumped together under the title "business crimes" also are emphasized.

These include organized crime which police say extends throughout the United States, linking fraternities of criminals exacting a huge toll from American citizens each year.

On the eve of the conference the Justice Department reported a record number of criminal indictments on federal racketeering counts issued last year.

The government issued 1,198 such indictments and got 477 convictions. In 1965 it issued 872 indictments and got 410 convictions.

Hunter Is Man With a Boxoffice Touch in Land of Films

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "You have to make your own trip to the moon," said Ross Hunter. "There are no free rides."

Hunter is the youthful-looking former high school English teacher who now, as one of Hollywood's most successful producers, is becoming known as "the man with the box office touch."

Of the 36 films he has made since 1952 only two were financial duds, which he feels is something of a record.

"I have made a profit of $167 million for the studio," he remarked.

"Why? Because I don't make pictures for myself. I make them for the public. And what they want is to be entertained."

"Escape is a healthy word. And people are looking for a clean look in entertainment."

"European producers feel they have to give a slice of life. We feel that people get that slice of life in their own homes."

"We're on the upbeat now in Hollywood. European producers are on the downbeat. I feel that if you subject people to a neurotic film about despair, they go back to their homes and watch television, dull as that may be."

Hunter's latest bonanza is "Thoroughly Modern Millie," a madcap musical romp through the 1920s starring Julie Andrews, James Fox, Mary Tyler Moore, Carol Channing, John Gavin and Beatrice Lillie.

His next opus is "The Public Eye," which Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton will get a million dollars each to star in.

Ross used to be an actor himself. After a spell of teaching English in Cleveland, he put in a hitch in the Army, then took a film test and scored high.

He acted in 19 pictures — remember "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and "Louisiana Hayride"? — and pushed his income up to $1,000 a week. His career was interrupted by an illness that sidelined him for a full year.

When he recovered nobody seemed to remember him. Unable to find work as an actor, Ross returned to teaching at $57.50 a week, spent his evenings studying producing.

"It was the best thing that could have happened to me," he recalled without bitterness. "I don't miss acting, and I don't think the public misses my acting either. I wouldn't be an actor again for anything in the world."

In a few years, as producer, Hunter climbed quickly back up the Hollywood ladder. His films include such hits as "Magnificent Obsession," "Imitation of Life," "Tammy, Tell Me True," "Flower Drum Song," and "Pillow Talk."

Among the stars he helped launch or bring to new peaks of popularity are Rock Hudson, Sandra Dee, Natalie Wood, Doris Day, Lana Turner, Hayley Mills, and Debbie Reynolds.

He is well aware that he's riding an unusual success wave, but says that if he should run into a series of flops he still has a resource available. "I can always go back to teaching," he said cheerfully.

Conspiracy Probe on Two Fronts

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison moved on two fronts today to get witnesses he wants in his John F. Kennedy assassination conspiracy probe.

The district attorney's office issued a warrant Monday for the arrest of Lilly Mae McMairnes, 22, Omaha, Neb. as a material witness.

The U.S. attorney's office was asked by Garrison to issue an unlawful flight order against Gordon Novel, 29, former owner of a French Quarter bar who disappeared last week before he was to have appeared before the Orleans Parish grand jury.

If U.S. Atty. Louis LaCour honors Garrison's request, it would bring the FBI into the search for Novel.

"I think it is very odd that Novel can be found by newspaper and television media and not by the people who are trying to arrest him," said Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock.

There was no immediate word from LaCour's office about the request and an FBI spokesman declined to comment about Novel.

Some federal authorities are known to look upon Garrison's investigation with a cold eye. The Warren Commission, named by President Johnson to investigate the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963, concluded that New Orleans-born Lee Harvey Oswald was the assassin and acted alone.

Garrison's office issued a warrant last week for Novel's arrest and asked that he be placed under $50,000 bond.

Perry R. Russo, 25, a Baton Rouge insurance salesman, said Mrs. McMairnes, then known as Sandra Moffett, was one of several persons attending a party in the New Orleans apartment of the late David W. Ferrie in mid-September 1963.

After this party, Russo testified two weeks ago, he heard Ferrie, Oswald and Clay L. Shaw conspire to kill President Kennedy.

Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans business executive, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of conspiring to murder Kennedy.

Mrs. McMairnes, married to part-time Omaha minister Harold McMairnes, 48, told newsmen last week she did not attend the party but said she had known Russo.

Criminal Dist. Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr., who will conduct Shaw's trial, signed the warrant for Mrs. McMairnes as a material witness and set bond at $5,000.

"We feel sure she is a very important witness," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Andrew Sciambra.

F. Irving Dymond, one of Shaw's defense attorneys, also expressed an interest in questioning Mrs. McMairnes.

"My opinion now is that she will be a very useful witness," said Dymond.

In his testimony at a preliminary hearing, Russo alluded to Sandra Moffett only once, naming her, as "the girl I brought" to the party.

Mrs. McMairnes said she did not know Ferrie until 1965.

Novel has made statements to newsmen in Columbus, Ohio, and Washington, D.C., calling Garrison's probe a fraud.

Judge Haggerty said he wanted to "prevent the flow of prejudicial pretrial publicity," and ordered the prosecution not to make public statements about the case or discuss the evidence with newsmen.

Teaching the Coach

ATHENS, OHIO—(NEA)—The old story about the good coach who made a terrible administrator will have a new ending if the staff at Ohio University has anything to say about the situation.

Ohio now lists a program offering a master's degree on physical education with a major emphasis in sports administration. It is designed to prepare the student for a career in administration on the school or professional level.

What the school calls "internship experience" appears to be the most interesting part of the program. Each student will spend one semester in the office of a public school or college athletic director or in the office of a general manager of a professional sports organization.

It's hoped that the students will receive a wide variety of experience in public relations, personnel management, advertising, ticket sales, promotion, finance, purchasing, travel arrangements and relations with news media, which may be the toughest test of all.

There's no academic credit for the internship program, but the experience is sure to be valuable. It might even convince a few of the students to stick to coaching.

Landscaping Demonstrations

—Dolores McBride Photos with Star Camera

Calvin Caldwell and Cecil Bittle show landscaping class how to propagate a plant using air-layering method. This method is used to cause plant stems to root while they are still attached to the plant. Air Layering is easy to perform and does not require expensive facilities.

Air Layering is being used in picture on rubber plant when plant has become leggy. After roots have developed the top plant can be removed and potted as new plant.

Matt McCauley, Forestry Instructor for the Red River Technical School and class discussion. Extension bulletin, "Plant Propagation," is available from the local Extension Office free upon request.

Smokey Says:

DADDY, YOU'LL HELP SMOKEY BEAR PREVENT FOREST FIRES—WON'T YOU?

YOU BET I WILL!

Only you—can be careful!

Calvin Caldwell, County Extension Agent, discusses budding and grafting at a landscaping meeting last week. He explains this procedure is used on roses, shrubs, fruit, and nut trees to improve quality and size of products. He demonstrates using a portion of bark including bud or buds in grafting. Budding is most successful when plant is in a vigorous stage of growth. Peaches and roses are commonly budded in June and July, whereas pecans may be budded in spring and summer.

The Nurse Corps Women in War Zone

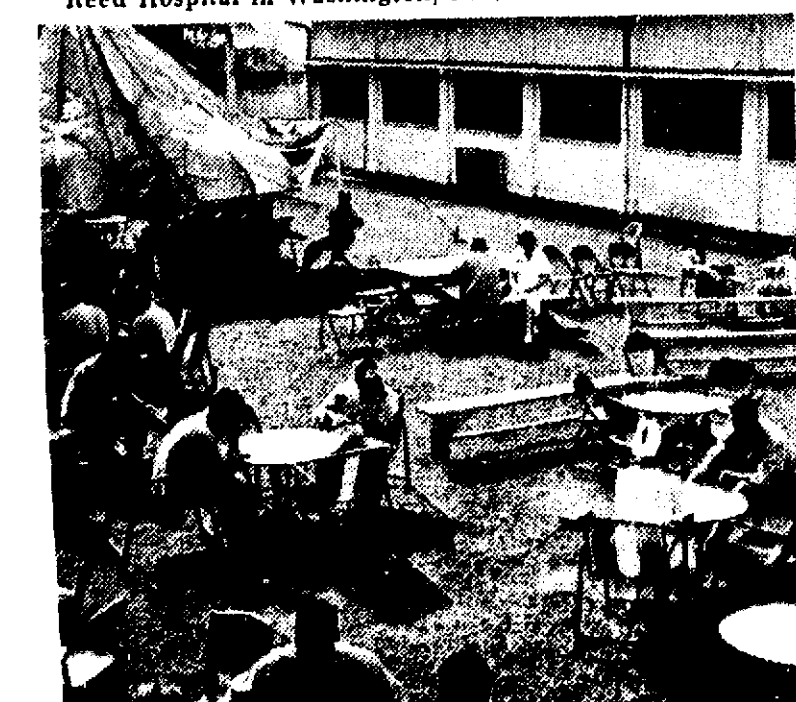

American women are serving in Vietnam as members of the Army Nurse Corps. All registered professional nurses, they work with the wounded, and with the Vietnamese in Civil Action Programs, as shown below right. Established 66 years ago, the Corps now includes 4,350 nurses, all but 950 of them women.

ARMY NURSES have served in two world wars, Korea and Vietnam, and are currently stationed at other spots around the globe. Training at the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing is offered with pay to 135 men or women each year, or applicants to the Corps may be graduates of accredited nursing schools elsewhere. Besides their various nursing duties shown here, women members of the Corps occasionally find time to make new acquaintances, as did the girl in the center picture below.

A STUDENT NURSE has soft words for a tiny patient while in training at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Pope Hints at Favoring Birth Control

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI gave a carefully qualified endorsement today to government measures of population control without indicating any relaxation in the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to mechanical means of birth control.

Writing in the fifth encyclical of his reign, the pontiff in a section on population growth said "the temptation is great to check the demographic increase by radical measures."

He added: "Public authorities can intervene, within the limit of their competence, by favoring the availability of appropriate information and by adopting suitable measures, provided that these be in conformity with the moral law and that they respect the rightful freedom of married couples."

Cecil Bittle, Director Southwest Branch Experiment Station, explains way to prune shrubbery to keep them in bounds, maintain form and promote healthy growth. He illustrates cutting at nodes and cutting inner shoots to allow space in center of plant and promote outward growth.

Mr. Bittle said spring flowering shrubs such as spirea, forsythia, and weigela should be pruned immediately after flowering. Summer flowering shrubs such as crape myrtle and white hydrangea should be pruned during winter. Evergreens such as holly, photina, ligustrum, enonumus, abelia, which are grown for their foliage should be pruned just before growth starts in spring between March and April. In nandinas select the tallest canes and remove at groundline.

To rejuvenate old leggy shrubs, Mr. Bittle said in spring thin out and cut off at the ground line half of the old canes to stimulate new growth. This will make for compactness and a reduction in height. The following spring, remove remaining old canes as new canes come in. Remove all broken diseased, or dead branches from all trees and shrubs.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Right to "Get Even"

do it for him.
To be sure, it may be difficult in a particular case to determine whether a person was acting to protect or to punish. Take this case:
A night watchman was rushed by a man wielding a knife. Drawing his gun, the watchman killed his assailant with two fast shots.
But in due course, he himself was arrested and brought to trial on a homicide charge.
"His first shot was legitimate self-defense," conceded the prosecutor. "However, his second shot was fired after the man was already wounded. That was no longer self-defense. It was punishment."
But it also appeared that the victim, though wounded, was still armed, close, and dangerous. Dismissing the charge, the court held that the watchman's second shot, too, was within the reasonable scope of self-defense.
On the other hand:
A landlord and tenant got into an angry scuffle, during which the tenant was knocked to the ground.
While he was lying there helpless, the landlord gave him a swift kick in the head.
Because of the kick, the landlord was later held liable for assault and battery. The court said that, with danger past, the landlord had clearly acted out of sheer vindictiveness - and must therefore pay damages.
It was the law's way of echoing the warning of the poet La Fontaine:

dearly bought."

"When in doubt lead trumps" is one of the really old bridge bromides. There is very little merit to it. A better one is, "When not in doubt, lead trumps."

North's two club bid was Stayman and asked South to show a four card major suit if he could. South obliged with a two spade bid and North made a slight overbid of five spades. With an absolute maximum no-trump, South went on to six in spite of his poor trump holding.

The contract is a good one. It spreads if diamonds break favorably, if both kings are ing South is likely to make the hand. He will draw trumps with three leads, play dummy's king of diamonds and lead a second diamond. East will show out, whereupon South will play his ace and jack of diamonds.

West will be in with the queen and forced to lead a heart or club. A heart lead will be fatal.

Does West have an absolute guess? Not at all! East will have discarded three times. He will drop the two deuces first and either the three of hearts or four of clubs next. West will read East for having started with five cards in each suit whereupon West will know that South holds three hearts and two clubs. Then West will lead the club and beat the slam.

 What do you do now?
 A—Your partner has shown a minimum opening without much of a spade suit. Eighteen high card points opposite a minimum opening does not represent much of a slam play so you pass.

Crisis in India

Where Food Is a Luxury

A 38-year-old Indian who looks 70 has nothing to eat but grass. A starving woman, at left, shows the pounded roots that serve as her food. Children line up in one fortunate village for a charity meal of milo and milk, at right. All bear testimony to the tragedy of India's starving millions, result of drought, overpopulation, and poor agricultural management. Pictures here were taken in India's Bihar State, where rain has not fallen in three years.

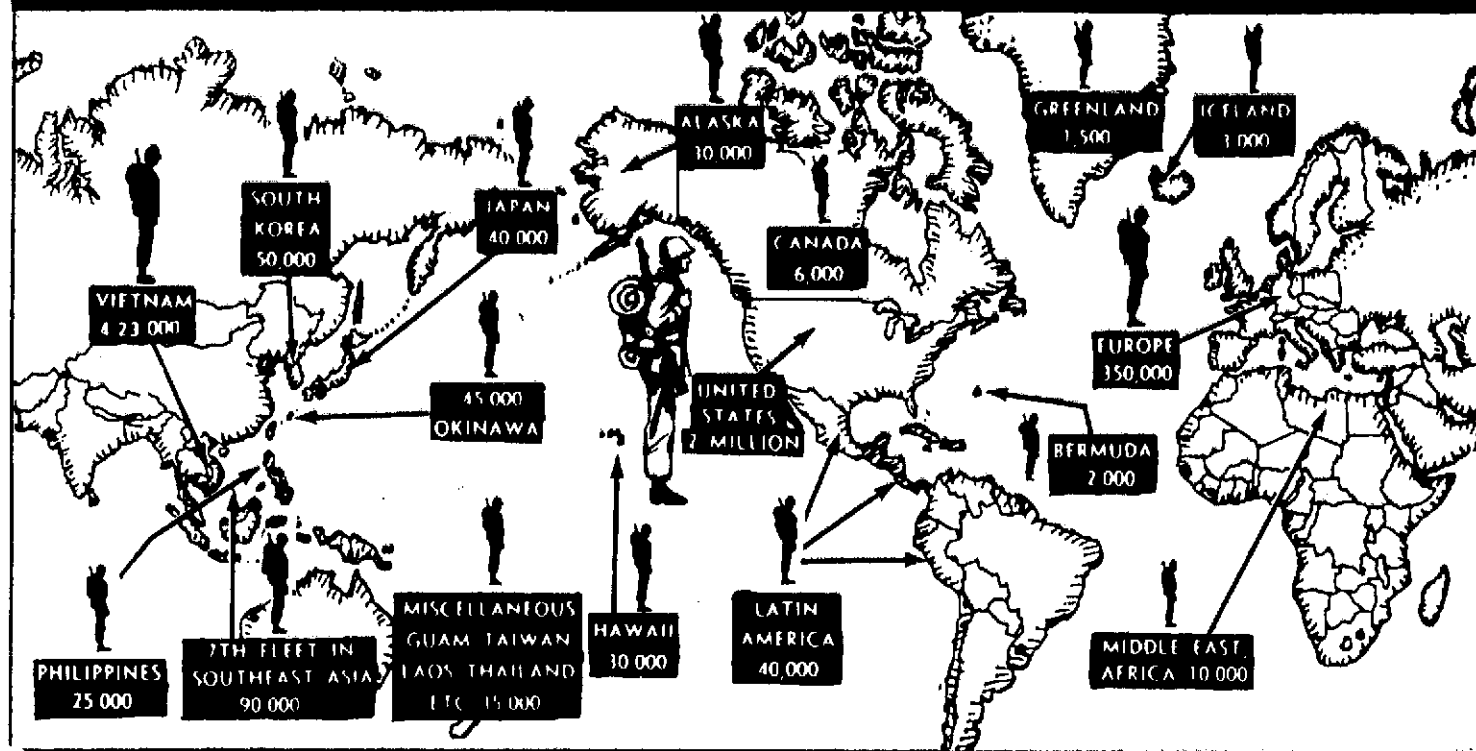

This globe-domed granary, built by the British in the late 1700s, can hold a capacity of 5,000 tons of grain, but has never been full. Typical of India's inability to grow sufficient food grains, the granary now has about 1,800 tons of emergency supplies of grain.

CIVIL WAR racked Russia after the Bolshevik Reds took power, and faced an opposition called the Whites. Like the Red Chinese now do, Russians read of the events on posters, lower left. By 1920, the Reds had won, and could unfurl their flag virtually unopposed, as a group of them did in Moscow Square, below. Two decades of shaky relations with Western nations threatened world conflict after World War II, but the Bolsheviks, or Communists, now have more amiable relations with the West. Below right, Premier Alexei Kosygin, U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, and British Ambassador Geoffrey Harrison met recently to sign a nuclear arms ban in outer space.

The Coup That Shaped History

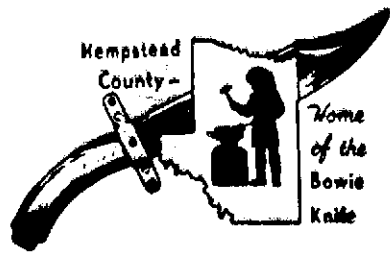

Russian Communists observe the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution Nov. 7. Though the coup put the Reds in power, its beginnings date back to the massacre of Russians by the czar's troops in 1905, as depicted at left. The czar was forced to abdicate 12 years later, but a provisional government that followed led by Alexander Kerensky, was overthrown by Bolsheviks headed by Lenin and Trotsky.

Was It Really Dan'l Boone Who Wrote on This Rock in Creek 6 Miles West of McCaskill

About six miles west of McCaskill and a quarter mile north of State Highway 24 there is a creek and on its bank a rock that is stirring up a controversy in Hempstead county. The location is on a farm owned by a man named Calhoun.

Gordon Prescott, of McCaskill, the county surveyor, asked The Star's editor to photograph it some time ago but he never got around to it, so last week B. N. Holt, secretary-manager of Hope Chamber of Commerce, came in with his own picture, shown above.

Allowing for the vagaries of English spelling by the frontiersmen of a century and a half ago the rock purports to carry the signature of Daniel Boone under date of 1814.

According to the printed pages of history it seems unlikely, although Daniel Boone certainly was through this territory at various times in his exploration of the West. But Boone was born in 1735 and died in 1820 at the age of 85. If the signature on the rock is genuine Boone must have been 79 when he wrote it. That's an advanced age for even so hardy a pioneer as Daniel Boone to be ranging through the wilderness.

Still, it's a "possible." You can't prove old Daniel wrote that inscription—but, on the other hand, who's going to prove that he didn't?

Critics Say Johnson Wants to Make SS a Welfare Program

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of President Johnson's proposed massive overhaul of the Social Security System claim he wants to turn it into a welfare program.

The administration discounts any such aim, but it's certain that questions raised by witnesses before the House Ways and Means Committee will concern the panel in closed session next week as it works over the legislation.

Both parties favor some increase in benefits, but liberal Democrats are eyeing a higher level than many conservatives of both parties. The legislation is complex and open to negotiation on scores of points.

Doubts have been voiced in connection with:

— The cost of the proposed 20 per cent average increase in benefits and whether such an outlay can be financed by the traditional "self-supporting" payroll tax.

— Some of the "fine print" provisions of the proposed act which critics interpret as departing from the principle that Social Security benefits are paid as a matter of right — because of contributions to the funds by employees and employers — and not on any charitable basis determined by need.

Johnson may have contributed to the uneasiness expressed by some witnesses when he submitted a budget message discussing Social Security in the general context of plans to aid the poor.

Officials insisted that didn't imply the administration was weakening the traditional concept of the program as social insurance rather than welfare. They said the budget message simply stated that more than one-third of Social Security beneficiaries have so little income, including their benefits, that they must live below the poverty level. Thus, any increase in Social Security would alleviate poverty.

So far as financing is concerned, Johnson's proposals are strictly in the social insurance tradition. The Social Security Administration has studied the possibility of using some general revenues to help finance a growing Social Security program.

But the recommendations sent to Congress stick to use of an increased payroll tax on employees and employers, envisioning an ultimate maximum contribution by each of $626.40 a year.

This method of financing was attacked on two counts — that payrolls could not be burdened with such a tax without distortions in the economy, and that it is not fair to workers just starting out to charge them with the full cost of increases to persons already retired or soon to retire.

K.C. Firemen Call Off Their Strike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firemen called off a scheduled walkout today as the Missouri Mediation Board moved into their wage-hour dispute with the City Council.

Daniel C. Rogers, mediation board chairman, called a 10 a.m. meeting of city officials and leaders of Fire Fighters Union Local 42 at City Hall.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes ordered Rogers to act after a delegation of deputy fire chiefs and battalion chiefs flew to Jefferson City Monday and requested help toward a settlement.

The governor told them he would move only if Mayor Ius W. Davis joined in the request. The mayor did so by telephone.

The firemen had timed the walkout to coincide with today's city election in which 12 councilmen and a mayor will be elected. The firefighters union has urged its members to work for the defeat of Davis and other members of the Citizens Association, the controlling faction on the council.

In New York, the Uniformed Firemen's Association voted Monday night to begin a clerical work stoppage at 9 a.m. Friday. Gerald F. Ryan, association president, said the firemen will "respond to alarms of fire and emergencies," but will do no clerical work.

The 10,500 New York firemen want a $2,000-a-year wage increase over a two-year period and fringe benefits. First grade firemen now earn $8,483 a year. They have been working without a contract since last July and have rejected an offer of a $1,100 pay boost.

Collusion Hinted by Rep. Bethell

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc hinted Monday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and the Pulaski and Garland Counties legislative delegations acted in collusion to get the liquor-by-the-drink and gambling bills through the General Assembly.

The liquor bill failed in both houses and the gambling bill passed but was vetoed by Rockefeller.

"Little Rock wanted across the counter drink and had agreed to support Hot Springs in the casino bill," Bethell said on a point of personal privilege.

He said, however, that when the liquor bill was defeated Little Rock "pulled a switch" and asked its Ministerial Alliance to contact ministers throughout the state for help against the gambling measure.

"Every member of this House has been branded as a result of the fight between these two cities and the failure of the executive department to carry out its end of the deal," Bethell said.

Bethell said Little Rock and Rockefeller were trying to make the city the state's convention center. He said they wanted the drink bill as an inducement to tourists and conventions.

"I'm not fixing to take the heat from downstairs because that man (Rockefeller) didn't want the monkey on his back," Bethell said.

Supporters of the measure have charged that the governor had agreed to allow the bill to become law without his signature.

Rep. Doug Brandon of Little Rock said Bethell, who voted for the bill, was trying to "clean his skirts."

"Mr. Bethell, if you can't stand the heat, get out of the fire," Brandon said.

Rep. Allan Dishong of Little Rock pointed out that only four of the 12 members of the Pulaski County delegation

Freighters Fire on U.S. Planes Twice

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. planes were fired on twice last year by Communist freighters in North Vietnam's Haiphong harbor, says the Pentagon.

But the Defense Department won't disclose the nationality of the ships or what kind of fire they directed at the American planes.

In neither instance, the Pentagon said Monday, was a U.S. plane hit. In neither case did the planes return the fire.

The Pentagon also refused to say whether the pilots were under orders to refrain from attacking their attackers.

Court Halts Prosecutor's Vote Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court has forced postponement of a hearing this morning by staying Prosecutor Jeff Mobley's investigation into alleged election irregularities.

The court ordered the stay Monday so it can determine if a prosecuting attorney may legally sit as a grand jury and cast write-in votes.

The hearing was scheduled for Conway.

Sen. Guy (Mutt) Jones of Conway has said 11 Faulkner County Negroes were paid $5 to $50 before the last general election. Mobley, of Russellville, wants to question the Negroes.

Mobley told the Supreme Court Monday he felt prosecuting attorneys are legally allowed rights similar to the foreman of a grand jury. Mobley contends the Faulkner County Negroes were paid by checks signed by Mrs. Wanda Tudor, currently a receptionist in the office of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, and formerly an employee of the Republican Party.

The Supreme Court's stay does not affect a contempt of court citation against Mrs. Tudor. She was cited for contempt for failing to produce her record of the bank account on which the checks were allegedly written.

Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith, the Republican minority leader, said however, that it would disenfranchise many voters because Arkansas was still in essence a one-party state and many county officials chosen in the Democratic primary are unopposed in the general election.

Sen. J. Hugh Lookadoo of Arkadelphia, the bill's author who made the motion to override the veto, said it would help establish a two-party system.

The Senate and House, returning to work after a two-week recess, spent most of the day on appropriation bills.

The Senate passed 27-4 a House bill authorizing the issuance of permanent and personalized motor vehicle license plates on a staggered time basis.

The House failed for the third time to approve a bill giving legislators and constitutional officers "public relations" expense accounts. The bill failed 58-31 with 75 votes needed for passage.

It would appropriate $2,400 a year for the expenses of all members of the legislatures except the House speaker and $3,000 a year for the speaker and all constitutional officers except the governor.

Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc later got the House to expunge the record by which the bill failed. He said he would offer an amendment making the measure apply only to the constitutional officers.

Although many legislators conceded that money for expenses was justified, they felt the voters should have a chance to pass on any appropriation to

Legislature Returns, Promptly Overrides 2 Rockefeller Vetoes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas legislature returned to work Monday and promptly overrode two vetoes by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The Senate and House overrode vetoes of a bill requiring voters to register by party affiliation and of a measure prohibiting the use of gummy labels or any other device to gally sit as a grand jury and cast write-in votes.

The Senate voted 22-9 to override on the party affiliation measure and 32-0 on the other bill. The House voted 75-9 and 58-19.

It was the second and third times this session that the legislature has overridden Rockefeller vetoes and only the fourth time the General Assembly has overridden a gubernatorial veto since 1953.

Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst, author of the write-in bill, said Rockefeller had misunderstood the measure. He said it simply implemented the voter registration amendment and that Rockefeller indicated he would not oppose an attempt to override the veto after this was explained to him.

Sen. Russell Elrod of Siloam Springs warned the Senate that the Republican Party would benefit by passage of the party affiliation bill.

Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith, the Republican minority leader, said however, that it would disenfranchise many voters because Arkansas was still in essence a one-party state and many county officials chosen in the Democratic primary are unopposed in the general election.

Outskirts of Haiphong Is Bombed

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON, (AP) — American pilots bombed the outskirts of Haiphong Monday and pounded other targets in North Vietnam with the heaviest raids in two weeks.

A slight break in the weather over North Vietnam enabled U.S. planes to fly 107 missions, a spokesman said. This was the largest number since March 14 when American pilots flew 116.

The targets included an oil storage depot six miles northwest of Haiphong and a surface-to-air missile site only five miles from the Red port. It was the closest penetration to North Vietnam's major port since the same fuel depot was attacked March 6.

The stepped-up strikes indicated U.S. airmen were prepared to seize any break in the weather to increase pressure on North Vietnam. The seasonal monsoon winds are due to change any day now, providing good bombing weather for the next few months.

The spokesman also announced the loss of an Air Force F4C Phantom jet over the north Sunday. The two crewmen are listed as missing in action. The plane was the second downed by enemy ground fire Sunday, but the announcement of the second loss was delayed while search planes looked for the crew.

The United States has now announced 498 planes lost over the north.

Though the tempo of the air war increased, ground action was generally light, with only scattered action reported. Enemy activity included terrorist bombing of three civilian buses north of Da Nang in which five civilians were killed and eight injured.

The U.S. Navy announced that the destroyers Stoddard and Turner Joy were fired on by coastal guns Easter Sunday while shelling the North Vietnamese radar and defense complex on Hon Me Island. Neither ship was hit.

Although the weather was clearing over the north, many of the planes went in using radar and all-weather bombing techniques. The carrier Enterprise sent her all-weather intruder jets against the targets around Haiphong, using air-to-ground missiles and heavy bombs.

Air Force planes flying from Thailand bombed supply points along the western edge of North Vietnam and down the southern panhandle. One heavy raid went against a supply complex which the North Vietnamese have laid out near the old battlefield of Dien Bien Phu. The bombs set off a blistering fireball and sent black smoke rising 5,000 feet above the jungle area.

Adding to the aerial pounding, three raids by Guam-based B52s hit suspected Communist troop complexes in the south.

Teachers Still Want Flat $500

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, said Monday a poll of the state's teachers indicated 72 per cent favored a bill guaranteeing each teacher a flat $500 raise during each of the next biennium.

Rozzell told the Arkansas Legislature the AEA was abandoning its support of a bill to distribute state aid to school districts on a formula basis.

Rozzell said not enough money was guaranteed under Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's proposed formula distribution bill to give teachers the $500 pay increases. He said even if it did, the raises would represent an average and not a flat figure.

The legislature's Joint Budget Committee failed to approve an amendment to the Revenue Stabilization Act submitted by Rozzell. Rozzell's amendment would channel money from other funds to guarantee all public school fund projects would be financed. Members of the committee said the amendment was not necessary.
